Maryland Man Confesses Killing Estranged Wife And Man Monday Evening

Ralph Bauerlien, 25, Westminster R. 1, is being held on a double murder charge at Westminster today after confessing to slaying his estranged wife and Elmer Stambaugh, 42-year-old Taneytown R. D. factory worker and farmer, near Taneytown about 9:30 o'clock Monday.

Bauerlien surrendered to police at his home near Westminster about an hour after the fatal shooting in which he used a shotgun and rifle, firing 15 shots from the 22 rifle into the body of his wife.

The Carroll County grand jury is now in session and Maryland State Police at Randallstown said the case will be presented immediately to the grand jury.

An employee of a rubber plant, Bauerlien told police his wife had separated from him several months ago and had gone to live with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stambaugh and their family at a large whitewashed shingle farmhouse about 1 1/2 miles southeast of Taneytown.

Hid In Home
Monday night the Stambaugh family and Mrs. Bauerlien had gone to a nearby neighbor's home to assist in laying some flooring.

Bauerlien, according to his admissions to police, went to the Stambaugh house and let himself in with a skeleton key. He ransacked the house looking for some letters he said he had sent his wife.

Then, hearing the family returning, he secreted himself in another room as they entered the kitchen. Bauerlien was carrying a 20-gauge shotgun in his hands and had a 22 repeating rifle slung over his shoulder.

Stambaugh Is Killed
When they had entered the kitchen, Bauerlien stepped out, shotgun in hand, Stambaugh directed Bauerlien to "put down that gun" and took a step toward him. The gun was fired and Stambaugh, shot through the stomach, staggered backward through the kitchen door and fell dead on the porch.

The shotgun jammed after that first shot and Bauerlien threw it to the floor, police said.

Mrs. Stambaugh and her two children were in the kitchen. When Mrs. Bauerlien ran to the pantry, Bauerlien fired a shot from the 22. The shot missed and she turned back and ran out the kitchen door, stepping across Stambaugh's body. When she reached the edge of the porch, Bauerlien again fired at her, told police he shot her in the left temple. She fell at a fence about 15 feet from the porch.

Bauerlien said he went to her and fired 14 more shots into her body. On the 17th shot the gun jammed.

Waits For Police
Bauerlien then went to his car, drove to the home of his parents, and remained there until state police appeared about an hour later. He surrendered to them and was returned to the scene of the crime to relate his actions.

When Bauerlien left the house the remainder of the family fled to neighbors. Police were called. Randallstown barracks notified the police here and elsewhere to search for Bauerlien's car. Taneytown firemen were called and about 40 took part in a search near the home. The search was abandoned with the arrest of Bauerlien.

SANTA VISITS MURPHY STORE

Santa Claus made a dramatic entrance promptly at 7 o'clock Monday evening atop the G. C. Murphy Co. building from which he was rescued by the Gettysburg Fire Department with its hook-and-ladder truck. The firemen played the truck's spotlight on the old gentleman, who, while waiting for his rescue, reached into his gift bag and scattered handfuls of candy and gum to the gathering crowd.

Santa, who is probably better acquainted with sliding down chimneys, was a bit shaky coming down the ladder and sat down a moment at the bottom before leading his happy followers into the Murphy store. Assisting Fire Chief Donald McSherry in the rescue operation were Ray Breighner, John Leedy, Harold Settle, William Miller, Richard Finkbore, Harvey Gastley and Paul Woodward.

Upon entering the store, Santa was greeted with the strains of "Santa Claus is Coming To Town." He led his followers to the rear of the store where he gave the children a storybook, "Santa's Christmas Eve." To the children who presented small red or green gift tickets, he gave boxes of toys including horns, balloons, guns, dolls, candy, books and other gifts.

Santa will visit the Murphy store every night this week.

Ike Reviews Programs For Congressional Leaders Today

President Eisenhower is returning to Gettysburg this afternoon by plane. He was due here about 2 o'clock.

Previously the White House had said the chief executive planned to go by auto. It will be his first flight from Washington to Gettysburg since his illness.

Mrs. Eisenhower plans to make the trip later by auto.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower reviewed his foreign and defense programs with congressional leaders of both parties today, and won at least a partially favorable reaction from Democrats.

Details of the programs were not disclosed, but the White House said administration officials laid before the lawmakers a stepped-up program of foreign aid and overseas information.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee told reporters: "I think the defense program looks fairly good."

But Russell added that congressional committees will want to go over the administration proposals in detail before committing themselves.

After the meeting, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President volunteered the following comment to the senators and House members who met with him from 8:30 a.m. to 11:10 a.m.

Thanks Leaders
"I want to give my thanks and my very real gratitude to the leaders on both sides of the aisle in the Senate and the House of Representatives for the very great contributions they have made and are making to true bipartisanship."

Hagerty also read a statement approved by all those at the meeting. It said:

"The President met today with the leaders of both political parties in the Senate and the House of Representatives for a bipartisan conference on the problems of foreign affairs and national defense which will be submitted to the 1956 Congress."

LIONS GIVE $200 MORE TO CHEST CAMPAIGN HERE

Gettysburg Lions Monday evening boosted their contribution to the Community Chest by $200 bringing their total donation to the drive this fall up to the $1,000 mark.

The action was taken on recommendation of the Finance Committee that tied with the extra gift a plea for 100 per cent cooperation by the whole club in the annual minstrel show next spring. The $1,000 came from the club's charity fund which is replenished each year by the proceeds of the annual show. President Earl E. Ziegler presided at the meeting with 90 members in attendance.

Guest speaker was Dr. Milton L. Stokes, professor of economics and political science at Gettysburg College. His subject was Central Banking and he devoted most of his talk to a description of the operation and organization of the Federal Reserve Bank.

Economists Fear Tax Cut
Most economists hope today the government does not reduce taxes because they feel it would release more money for spending and would have an inflationary effect."

Dr. Stokes said. One of the best ways to fight inflation is to reduce the money supply and economists feel that rather than reducing taxes the federal government should use surpluses to retire some of the vast outstanding bond issues."

Dr. Stokes said that less than half the banks in the nation are members of the federal reserve system but that most of those non-member banks are comparatively small institutions. He described the services rendered by the federal reserve system including their issuance of 90 per cent of the paper currency, their operation as clearing and collection houses and the restraints they exercise on the economic system through fluctuations in the discount rate and by other means.

G. W. Lefever, membership chairman, announced plans for initiation of new members in January when charter members will be honored.

The meeting was held at the Shetter House. Next week the club will hold its annual Christmas party at St. James Lutheran Church.

Blind Couple Swamped With Mail After Eisenhower Boost

Bob and Betty Johnson, the blind couple who live just east of here and who, a week ago today, received a kindly business boost for their rug weaving business from President and Mrs. Eisenhower, have been swamped with letters, some of them special delivery, telegrams and phone calls from California, Texas, Florida, Nevada, Montana, but mostly from New York and Pennsylvania.

Thursday the day the couple won $500 on the "Strike It Rich" TV program in New York, they received 20 pieces of mail. The number jumped to 91 on Friday, 150 pieces of mail on Saturday, a special delivery of 266 pieces on Sunday, and, when asked about Monday's total they replied, "We have not been able to open today's mail but as you can see, there are well over 100 pieces. Most of them are orders for rugs, or letters asking for descriptions and price lists, but some are congratulatory messages such as the one 'Good luck to you and hooray for Ike.'"

"Too Wonderful"
"The whole affair is too wonderful a thing to even talk about," said Betty. "It has been terrific."

Bob exclaimed, "We were getting a few orders before the Eisen-

SCOUTS RAISE $29.40 TO HELP ALASKAN TROOP

Boy Scouts from the Black Walnut District raised $29.40 to purchase uniforms for the only Eskimo Boy Scout troop. The money was raised at the annual Christmas party held for the district Monday evening in the Gettysburg High School gymnasium.

The scouts in prior years had purchased 25 cent gifts for the party which "Santa" distributed to the scouts present. This year the scouts, instead of buying gifts, gave 25 cents toward purchase of uniforms for an Eskimo troop in Alaska. The troop is the northernmost affiliated with the Boy Scouts of America.

Approximately 150 scouts, cubs, explorers and their parents were present for the Christmas party. Dr. Frederick Tilberg led group singing. The Misses Janet Johnson and Constance Riley provided instrumental accompaniment.

Three Receive Prizes
Three scouts who were awarded prizes in an essay contest held in connection with the Washington Trek were presented with their awards, certificates for purchase of scout equipment, by District Chairman Attorney Eugene Hartman. They were Randy Eyer, of Troop 79; Mark Eckert and Kenneth Hull of Troop 73.

Peonut scrambles were held for the cubs and older scouts. John C. W. Riddle, new Black Walnut District chairman, succeeding Attorney Hartman was introduced as was Charles Bright, field executive for the district.

Scouts aided Santa Claus distribute oranges and candy canes to the scouts and cubs. Dr. Joseph Riley was "Santa's assistant." A movie on Gettysburg was shown.

ADULT CLASS REGISTRATIONS "VERY SLOW"

"The return of registration forms for adult education classes has been very slow which leaves us in doubt as to what type of classes we should set up," Howard Shoemaker, director of the evening school, said today. The classes are sponsored by the Gettysburg Recreation Association and will be held weekly in the Gettysburg High School beginning January 9 at 7:30 p.m. and continuing for 10 weeks.

Shoemaker said, "A registration deadline has been set for Thursday and I urge all interested persons to make their application right away. Registration forms are at the First National Bank and the Gettysburg National Bank. It is necessary that ten persons register for a particular class before we can make the necessary arrangements for teachers," he said.

Ask $2 Deposit
A $2 deposit must be made by those prospective students residing in the Gettysburg Joint School Area, consisting of Cumberland, Franklin, Freedom, Highland, Mt. Joy and Straban Twp., and Gettysburg Borough. The deposit will be returned if the student attends 70 per cent of the scheduled classes.

Secretary Bernard V. Miller said the other 30 members of the company will be asked to vote on the proposition. If they approve, the company, which has been in existence since 1911, will turn over all of its property to United Telephone and distribute the $1,000 to the shareholders.

MAY HAVE TO LOWER TEACHER STANDARD HERE

The possibility that the Gettysburg Joint School District may have to "lower its standards" and employ teachers with less than four years of college training was suggested at the December meeting the Gettysburg Joint School Board Monday evening as the directors and Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe, superintendent of schools, discussed current problems in filling vacancies in the teaching staff.

The discussion led to action referring to the Teacher and Curriculum Committee the task of developing a revision of teacher salary schedules here.

A teacher elected last month, Mrs. Jane Hockensmith Yost, a senior at Shippensburg, has decided not to accept and no teacher has yet been secured for one first grade room at Meade school after the Christmas holidays. Mrs. James Feather has been substituting but will end her services next week.

BURGESS WILL TURN ON XMAS STREET LIGHTS

Burgess William G. Weaver will open the Gettysburg Christmas program Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Lincoln Square by turning on the Christmas lights. Final details of the program were announced Monday evening at a meeting of representatives from the Chamber of Commerce, Travel Council, Retail Merchants' Association, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the Chamber of Commerce office in the Plaza building. Also present were representatives of Gettysburg College and High School.

Immediately following the turning on of the lights, the combined 400 voice choirs of Gettysburg college and high school will sing Christmas carols under the direction of Parker B. Wagnild and Paul Grove. Accompanying the combined choirs for some of the numbers will be an eight piece high school brass choir under the direction of Robert Zeigler.

6 Coeds To Take Part
The last of the songs will be "Jingle Bells" after which Santa Claus will appear and be escorted to Santa's Shanty by members of the Jaycees.

During the singing of the carols six girls from the Delta Gamma sorority will enact scenes, symbolic of the carols behind a shadow box curtain. Miss Janice Petrillo, sophomore, will direct the group.

Lincoln Square will be blocked off from traffic beginning at 7 o'clock. Meters will be covered on the south side of the square room for the program to be given in the southeast corner in front of the YWCA building. Henry M. Scharf has reserved the balcony of Hotel Gettysburg for President Eisenhower and his party to whom an invitation has been extended.

P. H. Cunningham, manager of Radio Station WGET, will be the master of ceremonies. A rain date has been set for Friday evening.

3 Local Colleges And Warner Hospital Get Over $437,500 From $500 Million Ford Grant

Gettysburg College received $263,900, Mount St. Mary's $132,600, St. Joseph College an undetermined amount in proportion to half of last year's pay roll, Annie M. Warner Hospital $41,000 and hospitals and colleges throughout the nation were $500,000,000 richer as a result of the gift of the Ford Foundation announced Monday evening. This was the largest single sum in history of philanthropy and amounts to a sum equal to about $3 for every man, woman, and child in the United States.

Of the $500 million, a sum of $210 million is earmarked for grants to all the nation's 615 regionally accredited, privately supported liberal arts and science colleges and universities to help them raise teachers' salaries. This supplements $50 million appropriated last spring for the same purpose.

Another $200 million was contributed to 3,500 privately supported hospitals to help them improve and extend their services to the public. $90 million was granted privately supported medical schools to help them strengthen their instruction.

The grants are to be made within 18 months, half by next July 1 and the rest by July 1, 1957.

Bonus Grants
One hundred and twenty-six of the 615 schools will receive a bonus of $50,000,000 to be used either for salaries or for other pressing needs. The allocation to each will be proportionate to half the 1954-55 payroll. The bonus money goes to schools that have led the way in their regions in "improving the status and compensation of American college teachers."

Grants were also made to many other Pennsylvania institutions including the following: Albright College, Reading, $145,400; Bucknell U., Lewisburg, $538,100; Dickinson College, Carlisle, $406,400; Drexel Tech, Philadelphia, $646,900; Franklin and Marshall, Lancaster, $387,100; Juniata College, Huntingtown, $138,600; Lafayette, Easton, $545,600; Lebanon Valley, Annville, $159,200; Lehigh, Bethlehem, $534,000; Muhlenberg, Allentown, $215,100; Susquehanna, Selinsgrove, $128,500; Swarthmore, $707,700; Temple, Philadelphia, $548,400; Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, $2,742,800; Pitt, $1,498,200; Ursinus, Collegeville, $191,400; and Wilson, Chambersburg, $156,800.

Hospital appropriations were as follows: Carlisle, $72,900; Chambersburg, $83,300; Hanover, $47,000; Harrisburg Hospital, $250,000; Harrisburg Polyclinic, $196,700; University of Pennsylvania Hospital, $160,200; Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital, Philadelphia, $250,000; Waynesboro Hospital, $35,300; and York Hospital, $166,000.

Use Of Funds
Funds allocated to hospitals may either be invested or spent outright. The funds may be spent for any improvement or extension of hospital service, but not for operating expenses for services now being performed.

The faculty-salary grants made to the colleges will be in the form of endowments and only income may be used for ten years. Then the institutions will be able to dip into the principal if they wish. The income of the first ten years must be used to raise teacher pay. After that it can be used for any purpose. There is no restriction on the use of principal.

The foundation said it had considered requiring the institutions to match the grants with funds of their own. But the idea was discarded, and matching funds are not a condition of the grant.

The chief fiscal asset of the foundation is a portfolio of $3,000,000 shares of privately held Ford Motor Company stock.

Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, vice chairman of the administrative committee directing Gettysburg College affairs, made the following statement in the absence of John S. Rice, chairman, who is in Philadelphia attending a board meeting:

DR. LANGERHANS BRIEFS ROTARY ON NEWGERMANY

Germany, which has seen four complete reversals "within a lifetime" is in no mood for great political changes now, Dr. Hans Langerhans, of the faculty of Gettysburg College, told the Rotary Club Monday evening at its dinner meeting in the YWCA.

Speaking on "Germany Revisited," Dr. Langerhans told of his impressions following a visit to Germany last summer, his first trip since leaving Germany 16 years ago.

"German cities lost their character as a result of the saturation bombing of World War II. The German people, at least those in Western Germany, which I visited, have also changed. Many of the Germans have known four Germanies, the period of the empire, which collapsed in 1918; the period of the Weimar Republic, which collapsed in 1933; the period of Hitlerism which collapsed in 1945, and the present Germany. I do not think there will be much change, at least until another generation takes over. Today what they call 'concretism' has taken over, only the tangible things are taken into consideration.

Enjoys Great Prosperity
"Germany is enjoying great prosperity, particularly in the building trades. Here I think the 12,000,000 persons who were forced out of their homes and back into Germany because they held some connection with Germany have helped bring about German prosperity, rather than, as one would expect, tending to depress the country.

"These people arrive with no possessions but what they are carrying. And they bring new ideas and a great eagerness to work, to get a roof over their heads and get started. And they are, oddly enough, helping Germany much as the great streams of immigrants helped the United States in the 19th century. They want to work, and the work is there to be done.

"World War II changed the individuality of cities. The central part of the cities were the heaviest bombed, and as a result the skyline has been completely changed."

Adenauer Respected
The German president, Dr. Adenauer, "is held in the highest respect, even by his opponents. He is a sort of stern father-teacher. But Germany is looking for his replacement. Dr. Adenauer is very old and soon it will be necessary for a new government head to appear on the scene."

Fifty-three attended the meeting at which President Philip J. Jones presided. Dr. Frederick Tilberg led group singing of Christmas carols accompanied at the piano by Dr. Kenneth Smoke. Dr. Frederick Shafer introduced the speaker.

DOZING HUNTER FINALLY "DOES"

Dale Biesecker, Orrtanna, Gettysburg High School senior, took two companions along Monday for the doe season after he apparently missed a buck the opening day of the big game season because he fell asleep.

Biesecker said he went hunting near Iron Springs the first Saturday of deer season, shot at and missed two bucks in the first 20 minutes. Finding a perch, he decided to sit down and wait for more deer. He fell asleep, and woke later to find a pool of blood nearby indicating that a wounded deer had apparently hidden only a few feet from where he slept.

Monday he took his brother, Kenneth Biesecker, Orrtanna, and Harmon L. Spence, Orrtanna R. D., a junior at Gettysburg High School, along with him. All three kept awake, and all three got does on Chamberlain's hill, between Orrtanna and Mt. Carmel.

creased optimism.
"The generosity of the Ford Foundation and the growing awareness of the needs of the college teacher should quicken morale on every campus in our nation. There has never been anything like this in the entire history of education."

From Pres. Livingston
Richard W. Livingston, New Oxford, president of the board of directors of the Annie M. Warner Hospital, said:

"The gift of the Ford Foundation to our community hospital is especially appropriate at this time since it provides us with the nucleus of the funds necessary for the second phase of our building program. This money could not have come at a more appropriate time since during the past year it has been necessary many times to restrict admissions because of lack of space. The original thought of the board of directors was that the second building could be deferred from three to five years and money accumulated gradually under that period of time. This is obviously out of the question, and it is the hope of the board of directors that this contribution of the Ford Foundation will stimulate gifts by the members of the hospital service area so that the construction may start on the second building as soon as the first wing now under construction is completed.

"The board of directors is especially pleased with the receipt of this gift inasmuch as it recognizes the needs of the community for additional hospital facilities, and it should provide a stimulus for the people served by the Warner Hospital to complete work necessary so that adequate modern hospital facilities are available for all in need."

Sister Hilda, president of St. Joseph's, was unavailable for a statement on the Ford Foundation gift.

County Police Discuss Fires, CD, Insurance

Insurance, civil defense and fire reports were matters discussed by the Adams County Fire Police at their meeting Monday evening in engine house on E. Middle St.

County Civil Defense Director William G. Weaver outlined Civil Defense regulations and activities. There was much discussion on insurance coverage for fire police in connection with their dual duties. As firemen they are covered by the insurance carried for their fire companies when on duty as fire police in connection with fires, it was reported. Coverage is also given for certain Civil Defense activities, but full details of when and under what circumstances the fire police, when serving as Civil Defense auxiliary police, are covered by insurance is a matter that will have to be determined at a CD directors meeting January 10 at Holiday Inn near Harrisburg, the fire police were told.

Reject New Post
State Fire Police had suggested the establishment of a county fire police commissioners office to report on fires, and a motion to establish such a commissioner made last month was tabled at that time.

Monday evening County Fire Marshal John Murren, Hanover R. 4, told of the duties of his office to which he is elected by the county firemen's association. Each chief makes out a complete report on each fire, using a form similar to the form used by state police, Murren said. Those reports are sent to him and when asked is requested in investigating fires, he responds immediately adding, "If it is too hot for me, I call the state police. Often they are there before you have left the scene of the fire. You won't know them because they do not wear uniforms, but they are there."

Following the discussion the fire police decided to "let the reporting up to the chiefs" and voted down the proposed establishment of a fire police commission office.

Fire Police Lauded
Roger Myers, Fairfield fire chief and assistant county civil defense director, said: "Your organization came into existence about three years ago when Gettysburg had a fire and traffic conditions became so bad that other fire companies could not get to the fire. Since your organization you have done a wonderful job in handling traffic at fires and guarding property. The fire chiefs need you, respect you and like you. You are doing an excellent job and one that was badly needed."

Charles W. Culp Jr., president of the county fire police, presided at the meeting.

The group will meet at Biglerville January 18. The organization normally meets the second Monday of the month, but changed dates for the meeting at Biglerville to avoid conflict with the county firemen's meeting that night. The February meeting will be held in Littlestown.

Ford Foundation Showers Half Billion Dollars On Many Schools, Hospitals

NEW YORK (AP) — The Ford Foundation has showered half a billion dollars on the nation's privately supported colleges, universities and hospitals in history's greatest giveaway.

The huge gift, announced yesterday, was divided as follows:

To 615 regionally accredited, private colleges and universities, primarily to help raise teachers' pay — 210 million dollars;
To 3,500 privately supported hospitals located in all 48 states, plus Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico — 200 million dollars;

To privately supported medical schools — 90 million dollars.

The grant to colleges and universities is in addition to 50 million dollars which the foundation announced last spring it would distribute to help raise teaching salaries.

Thirty-six colleges and universities received more than one million dollars each. The largest gift — five million — went to York University.

Other Large Gifts

Other top gifts went to Harvard — $4,510,000; University of Chicago — $4,324,000; and Yale — $4,000,000. The smallest college grant was $31,900 for the California School of Fine Arts, San Francisco.

For hospitals, the gifts ranged from $250,000 — a sum awarded to 57 institutions — to $10,000.

The 90 million dollars for medical schools has not yet been broken down into specific grants.

The gigantic program was given final approval by the foundation's Board of Trustees, headed by Henry Ford II, at a meeting last week-end. Recipients were notified by telegram and a number of institutions across the country at first thought the good news was a hoax.

The foundation was quickly commended by medical and education leaders.

"Unreservedly Praiseworthy" Harvard President Nathan Pusey called the grants a "splendid, imaginative effort to strengthen higher education in America . . . accepting his invitation to discuss

The special intent — to improve faculty salaries — is unreservedly praiseworthy."

The foundation parceled its funds among colleges roughly in sums equal to their 1954-55 payrolls for instruction in the liberal arts and grant is to be paid next July 1 and the remainder a year later.

The advisory committee which determined the gifts said it did not want to disrupt "the carefully evolved pattern of our system of high education . . ."

The college grants were given in the form of 10-year endowments, the interest in that period to be used solely for increasing teachers' salaries. After 10 years the college may use the money as it sees fit.

Supplemental Grants

The 50-million-dollar grant of last spring, which was not then distributed, will be allotted to 126 colleges as supplemental grants. The foundation said these will go to institutions that have "led the way in their regions in improving the status and compensation of American college teachers."

The hospital grants are for improvement and expansion of service and not to be used for operating expenses. Final approval of individual hospital grants was held up pending submission of certain information.

The foundation's total gift was 150 million dollars more than all the money given away in its previous 19 years.

Business Manager Kenneth G. Reinhart Jr. promised to investigate complaints three directors reported about the milk being served in the grade school cafeteria. Two directors said they had been told the milk was "dirty" and another said a child had complained milk was "sour." Reinhart said the same supplier is used for both cafeterias and no complaints have been received at the high school.

Physical examinations of all cafeteria employees have been completed, the board was informed. The matter of placing posts and chains along the driveway to the Keefeauver building was referred back to the Property committee when it was reported that rock was struck on post sites originally selected.

Ask Risers For Bond

The board was told that plans soon will be available from the Metropolitan Edison company on suggestions for lighting the Keefeauver school grounds and the road connecting it to the high school. The directors voted to buy a snow remover for use on school pave-

Missing at the start of business were Sens. Clements (D-Ky), Hennings (D-Mo) and Millikin (R-Colo).

Secretary of State Dulles gave the conferees a foreign affairs briefing before leaving for a NATO meeting in Paris.

Then Secretary of Defense Wilson took over, followed by Harold E. Stassen, the President's special assistant for disarmament affairs, and foreign aid chief John B. Hollister.

Hagerty said the President took an active part in the discussions but left the presentation of departmental matters to Dulles and the others.

BOARD WANTS MORE BENEFITS

A project to study what has been called a "good standard for decent and healthful living" was undertaken by the Adams County Board of Assistance Monday night, at their regular monthly meeting at the Assistance Office, 17 N. Washington St. Concluding that "public assistance grants are not adequate," the board will begin work on the project for which they hope to gain statewide recognition. Members of the board will forward results to a state board in Harrisburg sometime in January.

Assistance officers reelected for a one-year term were: chairman F. E. Krichen, of McSherrystown; Vice Chairman Rev. Charles E. Heid, of Gettysburg, and Secretary Mrs. J. Kermit Herter, of Gettysburg.

Mrs. Donald E. Myers, the executive director, reported on the current case load. The analysis was as follows: 246 old age assistance, 107 blind pensions, 282 aid to dependent children, 65 general assistance, 43 aid to disabled. The total of 743 for this type of assistance is less than a year ago. F. E. Krichen chaired the meeting.

Dr. Otto John, Germany's Security Chief Who Fled To Reds, Returns To Bonn

By BRACK CURRY

BONN, Germany (AP) — Dr. Otto John, the notorious German turncoat security chief, has returned to the West.

The West German government announced today that the debonair "man of a thousand secrets" who deserted to Communist East Germany 16 months ago had surrendered to West German security police.

German sources said he crossed into West Berlin yesterday and was flown secretly to West Germany the same afternoon.

He is being questioned by the prosecutor of the West German Supreme Court, a terse announcement added.

Whereabouts Is Secret

Where he is being held and how he eluded the Communist police was not revealed. It was known here that the East Germans suspected he might be planning to flee back to the West and had put him under constant surveillance. His escape westward therefore may have involved considerable ingenuity on his part.

When Chancellor Konrad Adenauer told a meeting of his coalition government's parliamentary leaders that John was back in West Germany, they roared with laughter.

He bolted to the Communists on July 20, 1954, the 10th anniversary of the bomb plot against Hitler in which he and his brother played prominent parts.

Greatest Security Scandal
John's flight was postwar Germany's greatest security scandal. Ruffled allied officials admitted that he had turned out to be Russia's master German spy.

Two months before he crossed by night into East Berlin he had dined in Washington with Allen Dulles, director of the United States' top-secret Central Intelligence Agency. For 10 years he had curried favor with the British secret service.

John had been director of West Germany's Office for Protection of Constitution. Its mission was to ferret out and expose Communist and Nazi plotters inside the Bonn republic, work directly connected not only with the security of the West German republic but also of the 400,000 Allied troops in the country.

Attacked Adenauer
After he joined the Communists publicly, John charged that Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government was reviving Nazism and militarism. He said the "only forum" he could find to combat this trend was in the Communist East.

Before today's sensational announcement, he had been reported living in Potsdam, writing his memoirs and editorials for Communist publications.

Taft Visits Field: Secretary of War Taft, Maj. Gen. John R. Brooks, U.S.A. retired, Judge David A. De Armond, Congressman from Missouri, Col. C. R. Edwards, chief of the Insular Bureau and chairman of the Judiciary Committee, Brig. Gen. Henry T. Allen, chief of the Constabulary, and attache to the Japanese Legation during the Russo-Japan War, Maj. Gen. George B. Davis, Judge Advocate General, and Maj. W. H. Lambert. They were met by the members of the National Park Commission, whose guests they were, and the day was spent in viewing the field. The Commissioners, and Engineer Cope accompanied the distinguished party and explained the field.

It was Secretary Taft's first visit and he expressed himself well pleased with the work of the Commission. Secretary Root who was to have been here was prevented on account of sickness.

James W. Culp, for Holtzworth Bros., drove the distinguished party over the field.

In The County: The members of the Fairplay Sunday school will give an entertainment on Saturday evening (Dec. 16) for the purpose of buying an organ. The admittance fee is only 10 cents and it is hoped that all who possibly can will attend and help the good cause along.

Local Miscellany: The recital by Mrs. Webb in Brua Chapel last Tuesday evening for the benefit of the Adams County L.T.L. was ably attended. This is to be regretted, as Mrs. Webb is certainly a fine reciter. The music by the College orchestra and solos by Miss Edna Ziegler added to the pleasure of the evening.

It is stated that the Philadelphia and Reading road will join the Pennsy in cutting off all free passes to State and other officials. Our thanks are extended to Congressman Lefear for daily copies of the Congressional Record. Don't go away from home to buy your Christmas presents; you can get them just as cheap in Gettysburg as in the cities. Read the offers made by our merchants.

Ivan Frey, son of William Frey, of this place, who recently had an eye removed, has opened a restaurant in York.

The concert given in Brua Chapel Thursday evening by Messrs. Lewars, Bove and Hahn was exceptionally fine. The selections were well rendered and all present were delighted. It was one of the best concerts given in this place for some time.

James Dixon Post, Fairfield, will hold a bean soup Saturday evening, Dec. 16.

Dr. Hartman, who was elected Coroner, has lifted his commission.

About five feet of good belting was stolen from Blocher's wood yard one night recently.

The bazaar given by the members of St. Francis Xavier church last week was a grand success. Xavier Hall was never more beautifully decorated. About $400 was realized.

Pet Dog Prevented Fire: By the barking of a pet dog that sleeps in the house, Mrs. F. K. Hafer, of Abbottstown, was aroused from sleep Sunday morning and found that a lamp which was kept burning was on the point of exploding. The wick had dropped into the oil and started a furious blaze. Mrs. Hafer awakened Mr. Hafer and they extinguished the blaze. The damage done was only slight.

Personal: Mrs. Walter O'Neal visited her son, Dr. Alexander O'Neal, at Philadelphia last week.

Among the many guests who attended the wedding on Tuesday of Miss Elizabeth Keith Stewart, daughter of Supreme Court Justice John Stewart, and William C. Faber, of New York, were Mrs. Donald C. McPherson and Mrs. John A. Cox, of this place. The wedding took place at the bride's home. On account of ill health, Miss Nellie Thorne, daughter of George D. Thorne, has resigned her position as assistant in the department of public records at Harris-

Today's Talk

KEEP EXPECTING:
It is a good thing, at any age, to keep expecting as regards things ahead. Expect the best, at any rate, for then you will be most liable to face any reverse with a stout heart, and with your flag still flying! Expect each new day to be a better and happier one.

Keep thinking and working toward definite aims. Live in a spirit of healthy excitement, never doubting, never taking a backward step. Continually forging nearer to your gold and high ideal. Never be satisfied. Be a positive force, whatever your occupation may be. I recall talking to Gene Tunney, long before he became heavyweight boxing champion. Because of his attitude of mind, I was greatly attracted to him. I turned to him one day and said: "Gene, you will be the next world's champion in your class." He looked at me in a surprised manner and said: "Mr. Adams, I expect to be just that." In six months he was!

We must never sell ourselves "short." If we make a wise selection in some investment, we expect that it will get better and become a better investment. We ought to look at life like that, believing that the future holds many good things for us because of faithful past endeavors. We ought to be good peptomists! (My word invention!)

Thomas Edison was one of the world's greatest inventors and benefactors, because he was always working on something that would be perfected far in the future. "Boss" Kettering, the GM idea man and inventor, is always an inspiring man, for he keeps working on many things far in the future. Think ahead, but keep working ahead. Keep expecting.

Vision of mind is a wonderful thing. A multitude of things remain to be done to add to the world's progress. Universal peace among all nations is the most important. Why should we keep expecting peace when to expect peace is so hidden in the aims and hearts of millions who don't want any more war? Isn't it time that the people's will and prayers should be heard?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "A Book for the Ages"

THE FRIEND
He had no splendid gift to make. Or so thought he.

But many an extra step he'd take A friend to be.

Whenever he could help he'd be His cause was laid.

Trying To Stop Coal Stealing: The Coal Dealers' Association of this place, of which W. I. Oyler is president and C. E. Spangler, secretary, held a meeting last week with a view of determining on some means to break up coal stealing from cars on the Round Top branch. The Association will ask the railroad companies to place guards or devise some means to break up this thieving.

Since the scarcity of coal several winters ago, when a considerable amount was carried from cars, the practice has grown, and it is stated that now coal is not only carried off of cars but hauled away in wagons.

Eggs Go 'From Truck Into The Frying Pan'

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—Joseph Trice, a truck driver of Chicago almost had a few thousand fried eggs on his hands in the middle of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Trice was hauling a load of eggs over the road when his truck caught fire. But volunteer firemen, who rushed to the scene, snatched the eggs from their would-be frying pan just in time. The tractor of Trice's vehicle was demolished.

Torn helped us out. He was in New York on business but was able to spend some time with us. Bob had never been to Times Square so he and Elmore went there while I did some Christmas shopping." Bob said, "I would not trade one Gettysburg for two cities like New York even though we had a good time there."

The Johnsons now have a daily output of four to five rugs but expect to increase it to eight when the new loom is set up. "We sometimes work as much as 16 hours a day, although we started the rug business as a hobby and just wanted to keep ourselves busy. Of course any money we make we apply to the mortgage on our home," Bob said.

The Gettysburg Times reporter who called on the Johnsons shortly after 5 o'clock Monday afternoon found them just sitting down to dinner in their modest but comfortable country home after the departure of two visitors. He returned a short time later for an interview to find that the Johnsons are indeed busy people—four more visitors arrived before he left. "Come again and don't wait for business," said the Johnsons in a cheery good-bye.

Helping the Johnsons read and answer their mail are Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Johnson; a neighbor, Charles Heintzelman; and William Haldeman, a friend from Biglerville.

SANTA GIVEN HELPING HAND

Pennsylvania banks are giving Santa Claus a helping hand in spreading Christmas cheer throughout the state, according to a survey on Christmas savings just completed by the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association.

Christmas savings in Pennsylvania banks reached an estimated $142,005,343 this year. More than 1,402,000 Pennsylvanians made weekly deposits in Christmas Clubs throughout the year in preparation for the yuletide season.

The average check paid to Club members by Pennsylvania banks was $101.28, marking an alltime high. In 1954 the average check was $98.52.

The Christmas savings total of $142,005,343 was 4.4 per cent higher than the amount saved a year ago.

More than 83 per cent of the members of the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association participated in the survey on Christmas savings.

The $142 million in Christmas funds represents a savings of more than $13 for every one of the 10,775,000 people in Pennsylvania.

FIRE DAMAGES HOME MONDAY

Loss was estimated at "several thousand dollars" in a fire at the home of Luther Metz, Virginia Mills, Monday night.

Fairfield firemen said water froze almost on contact.

Fire Chief Roger Myers said there was a possibility that the blaze was caused by squirrels, but tentatively the cause is listed as an overheated chimney. The blaze apparently started around the chimney and spread through the partitions from the first floor through the attic. Smoke and water damage was extensive.

'ACTIVE BUT NO LABOR BLOC' SAY UNION LEADERS

NEW YORK (AP)—Top leaders of the AFL-CIO say the united labor organization intends to be politically active but does not want to build a dominating labor bloc within or outside existing parties.

George Meany president of the newly merged AFL-CIO, said on the CBS television program Face the Nation Sunday, "We support candidates who are sympathetic with the needs of labor."

He said organized labor does not want to form a third party or to exercise control within the framework of any existing party. However, he repeated a previous statement that if legally barred from political activity, labor could be "compelled" to form a third party. "But let me say," he added, "I don't think that will happen."

Reuther Also Appears
On another program, Walter P. Reuther, vice president of the AFL-CIO, denied reports that the big union would form any single political bloc.

Reuther discussed labor's aims on the NBC television program The American Forum with Charles Sligh Jr., chairman of the board of the National Assn. of Manufacturers. Sligh said he observed in the past that unions had set up funds to help political candidates.

Reuther replied that union political funds were voluntary donations from members and defended labor's right to continue to collect donations for this purpose.

Sligh disclaimed any intention on the part of the NAM to "disenfranchise" unions as charged by Meany last Friday.

Emmitsburg HOMEMAKERS TO HAVE YULE PARTY

Mrs. J. Ward Kerrigan, home management leader, gave Emmitsburg Homemakers a very able demonstration of simple plumbing repairs at the club's regular monthly meeting last Thursday. Mrs. Kerrigan also displayed easy-to-make Christmas gifts.

President Mrs. Robert Fite called the meeting to order at the clubhouse at 1:30 p.m. The Homemakers Ten Commandments were read and Mrs. Lewis Higbee led the group in singing "We Gather Together."

Plans were made for the club's annual Christmas luncheon at the Green Parrot. The committee for arrangements consists of Mrs. J. Ward Kerrigan, Mrs. O. H. Stinson, and Mrs. Roy Maxwell. Members will exchange gifts at the luncheon scheduled for Dec. 29 at 1 p.m.

Reception In Frederick
All homemakers are invited to a reception for new county officers in Frederick on Dec. 30 from 2-3 p.m. The reception replaces the usual open house.

Miss Louise Sebald, director, reported that the homemakers' annual county council will be held next year at Hood College on March 29.

At the card party, sponsored by the club on Dec. 1 the door prize, was won by Miss Rhoda Gillelan. Turkey prizes were won by Mrs. Kenneth Wagaman and Lewis H. Stoner Jr.

The afternoon of games was held Thursday at the club with Mrs. John Roddy Sr. and Mrs. Robert Fite, hostesses.

Marines Outclass Bullets For 92-69 Triumph; Owls Play Here Wednesday At 8

A tall, clever and well-seasoned Quantico Marines cage squad handed the Gettysburg College cagers a 92-69 defeat here Monday evening to the surprise of no one.

The scrappy Bullets fought hard the whole way and turned in a creditable performance but were simply no match for the aggregation of former collegiate stars and pros.

Gettysburg got off to a good start on layups by Frank Capitani and Bobby Walsack before Ron Perry, ex-Holy Cross All-American, handed for the Marines. Fouls by Walsack and Dick Hockenbury and a pair of free tosses by Capitani made it 7-2 after 2:07 minutes. A goal by Richie Guerin, two free tosses by Don Lange and a foul by Guerin knotted the score at 7-7 before Gettysburg took its final lead at 9-7 on a pair of charity heaves by Walsack. A run of 14 straight points by the Marines gave them a lead they never relinquished.

At half time Quantico held a comfortable 45-30 edge.

Bullets Spurt

The Bullets put on a spirited rally in the opening minutes of the second half and slashed the visitors' edge to 51-49 after 6:35 minutes but that is as close as they could come. Frank Blum and Ted Henderson looped goals. Perry added two fouls and Lange hooked a shot to make it 59-49 before Joe Bierly netted a long toss for the Bullets.

From then on it was only a question of what the Marines wanted to make the score.

Fans were particularly thrilled by the deadly hook shots of Lange, 6-5 ex-Navy ace, who rarely missed from either side of the court. He tabbed 21 points and was topped only by Guerin who accounted for 21.

Sophs Set Pace

A pair of sophomores, Capitani and Walsack, netted 19 and 18, respectively, for the Bullets.

Temple University, ranked 11th nationally in collegiate circles, will be here to meet the Bullets Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Unnamed City Seeks Phillies' Franchise

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League said yesterday that Robert M. Carpenter, owner of the Philadelphia Phillies National League baseball team, had been offered $750,000 to transfer the Phillies' franchise to another city.

Bell did not name the other city involved and Carpenter, not commenting on Bell's statement, said he doubted that a first division ball club could long be maintained in the Phillies' present park, Connie Mack Stadium.

Their statements were made at a meeting to discuss tentative plans for the city to build a 75,000 to 100,000 seat sports stadium in Fairmount Park to house several sports activities.

LULU PEREZ TO QUIT RING

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—There was a day when Lulu Perez dreamed of becoming featherweight champion of the world. Last night he stood in a shower with head hung low and announced his retirement from the ring.

"Everybody tells me it's time to quit," said the 22-year-old Brooklyn youngster after his 42nd fight. He had taken a bad beating from Italian Paolo Rosi, losing a unanimous decision in 10 rounds at St. Nicholas Arena.

For a "kid" of only 22, Perez has run through quite a career. A little over a year ago he was heading for a shot at champion Sandy Saddler, but was knocked out by Percy Bassett. Last January he lost another elimination bout, to Carmelo Costa.

Perez moved into the lightweight division, winning one, losing to Johnny Gonsalves and now losing to Rosi.

Perez wasn't on the floor last night but he was rocked and hurt on three different occasions. The punches he used to duck were hitting him on the chin. The punches he used to land were cutting only the air or landing on gloves.

He weighed 133 to Rosi's 134½, pounds and two judges voted 73-4. Referee Mark Conn 8-2 and the AP also 8-2 for Rosi.

Clings To Lead In Hockey League

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Hockey League's individual scoring race remained at a virtual standstill in last week's competition, enabling veteran forward Zello Toppazzini of Providence to hang onto his lead.

Toppazzini scored 3 points last week to bring his total for the season to 46 on 19 goals and 27 assists.

Kenny Wharram of Buffalo deadlocked Paul Larivee of Providence for second place at 43 points. Wharram's 31 assists were tops in playmaking while Camille Henry of Providence leads in goals with 20.

Fred Glover of Cleveland is the circuit's bad man with 82 penalty minutes while Pittsburgh's Gil Mayer was the leading goaltender with an average of 2.77 goals a game.

NORTHWESTERN, EAGLES SEEKING NEW COACHES

By JOHN CHANDLER

Northwestern University and the Philadelphia Eagles were shopping around today for head football coaches after a fresh round of hiring and firing in both college and professional ranks.

Getting the ax at Northwestern was Lou Saban, along with four assistants, while the pro Eagles handed walking papers to Jim Trimble and three aides. Kenneth (Jack) Mollenkopf, Purdue line coach, was promoted to head coach.

At the same time Maryland's Jim Tatum said that reports that he would leave College Park were getting to be a "damned joke."

Tatum has been mentioned as successor to Trimble, and another report had the Maryland head coach going to North Carolina to replace George Barclay.

Quit Purdue Post

Stu Holcomb, who left his job four days ago as Purdue University head coach to become athletic director at Northwestern, fired Saban, 34, on the first day in his new job yesterday.

Also released were line coaches Bud Svendsen and Nathan Johnson, and coach George Steinhilber and backfield coach Al Pesek.

"I feel that it is in the best interests of the athletic department that we make a change in our football coaching staff and that the new coach be free to name his own staff," Holcomb said.

Northwestern, for the first time in history, failed to win a football game this season, but tied Illinois 7-7 in the final game.

Two Are Mentioned

Among those mentioned as successors to Saban were coaches Dan Ward of the University of Colorado and Ara Parseghian of Miami (Ohio) University.

Mollenkopf, 50, was a star end at Bowling Green (Ohio), and came to Purdue in 1947 with Holcomb.

Trimble, 37, said he was "stunned" at the action of the Philadelphia front office, although he had read recent reports that he would be fired.

"I can say with all honesty that I have worked harder in this past football season than at any other time in my coaching career," he said.

The Eagles won four games, lost seven and had one tie in the National Football League this year. The Eagles management said it was out to get "the biggest name coach" available to replace Trimble.

Andrew Tomick, 21, Spring Church, Armstrong County, while hunting about 15 miles south of Ridgway. Tomick's body was found in a wooded section by William Smouse, also of Armstrong County.

A number of other hunters were reported wounded in gunshot accidents in various sections of the state.

Bane Undertakes Judge's Chair

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. Bane (D-Fayette) will leave his state Senate post Dec. 31 to become judge of the Fayette County Common Pleas Court.

Dane submitted his resignation to the Senate last night. He won election to the 10-year judicial post at the November local elections.

Bane's retirement from the Senate will reduce the Democratic minority to 22 members and require the votes of four Republican members to pass a bill.

Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furman indicated last week that a special election to fill Bane's seat will be held in connection with the April 24 primary, although a definite decision has yet to be made.

WAYNESBORO HI OPENS TONIGHT; TWO VETS BACK

(This is the eighth and final in a series of articles written by members of the South Penn Sports Writers Association on prospects of South Penn Basketball teams for the season.)

The Waynesboro Area High School Indians make their 1955-56 court debut at Waynesboro tonight entertaining the Cadets of Scotland School for Veterans Children.

The Indians, who showed speed and accuracy in bashing Boiling Springs and Hagerstown in practice games, definitely have their work out for them tonight.

Scotland has been the trial horse of the exhibition schedule handing Chambersburg the worst beating it has had since 1938 and then absorbing a drubbing at the hands of the title defending Thundering Herd from Carlisle.

How Waynesboro stacks up with this pair will be proven tonight.

Head Coach Harry Pure who has been working his squad hard since November 1 is endeavoring to develop a combination of court perfectionists. He is hoping that deception, ball handling speed and general basketball savvy will offset the team's lack of height.

Hartle, Kohler Back

Pure has two regulars back from last season. The offensive star of the team is likely to be 5-9 Carroll Hartle, who holds the South Penn foul shooting record. Hartle, 17, a senior, and is hailed by Pure as his best outside shooter. Although he averaged 19.8 points a game last season Hartle turned in a fine defensive performance.

"He has lots of basketball savvy," declares Pure.

The other regular is 6-0 Alie Kohler, a good man off the boards. He shoots well underneath. He should give the team scoring punch.

Kohler is acclaimed the best defensive man on the squad because of his ability to diagnose the opposition and move against that pattern.

Clair Eden, 6-1, up from the junior varsity, is Pure's key the season's success. Eden is being groomed to bear the brunt of the rebound work. He is a senior.

Here's the remainder of Pure's squad:

Robert Shryock, 17, senior, smallest man on the squad at 5-7. Has a good basket eye and moves well with the unit. Might develop into a key playmaker, should score well. A hustler and probable starter.

Jim Funk, 17, senior, stands 5-9. Good outside shot, hustles and has lots of basketball savvy. Slated for a starting berth but will see only spot duty because of a knee injury.

Ronald Vinson, 16, junior, 6-0. Up from last season's junior varsity. Should improve as the season progresses. Good from under the boards.

Other Candidates

Dave Fisher, 16, junior, 5-10. Learns quickly. Fits well with any combination. Aggressive. Plays both inside and outside.

Cletus Gardenhour, 16, junior, 5-9. Has speed and is a sharpshooter from outside. Should spell Hartle at times.

Rodney Smith, 16, junior, 6-1. Up from last season's junior varsity. Will give depth to the front court and should improve. Good jump shot.

Russell Hopewell, 15, sophomore, 5-10, only sophomore on squad. Has plenty of potential. With more experience and hustle should bid for a starting spot. Good rebounder. Tricky floorworker.

Larry McBride, junior, 16, 5-10. Up from last season's junior varsity. Reliable. Should see plenty of substitute action.

Champion Sadler Defeats Gallardo

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Featherweight champion Sandy Saddler stopped Dave Gallardo in a rough non-title fight last night. The battered Los Angeles fighter didn't come out for the 7th round of the scheduled 10.

It goes into the records as a 7th round TKO.

The champion scaled 131½. Gallardo 132.

The New York boxer twice decked Gallardo for eight counts, once in the third with a left hook to the head, then in the sixth with a left hook to the body.

Gallardo carried the fight to Sadler in the first two rounds. But by the end of the 6th he was bleeding from the nose and mouth and had a cut under his right eye. His handlers refused to let him answer the bell for the 7th.

Workmen were ordered to begin immediate installation of Emmitsburg Christmas lighting at the regular monthly meeting of the mayor and commissioners held Monday night in the fire hall. All members of the board were present. The decorations will follow the same pattern as in previous years.

Main St. Council decreed that only two-hour parking will be permitted there and will ask the State Roads Commission to erect signs designating the amount of limited parking time. The council also decreed that no parking at all will be permitted on the east side of Federal Ave. from E. Main St. to DePaul St. Signs declaring this a restricted no parking zone will be erected there in the near future.

BA Council Called
"Pressure Group"

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is a sharp, partisan split in the preliminary findings of a House Judiciary subcommittee that investigated the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council.

The subcommittee's Democratic majority Sunday night termed the BAC a "private pressure group" and urged that a closer check be kept on the organization.

Republican members, in a separate interim report, called the majority's recommendation "mischievous and unnecessary." They said BAC members are "private citizens with long and distinguished service to their country."

Privately financed and operated, the BAC is a group of industrial and business executives that since 1933 has advised secretaries of commerce on national economic affairs.

Senate Passes Aid
To Municipalities

HARRISBURG (AP) — A proposal earmarking $2,600,000 for continuation of state aid to municipalities building sewage disposal plants was passed 29-21 by the Senate last night and sent to the House.

Sen. William J. Lane (D-Washington) told the Senate the Democratic caucus agreed to vote against the proposal "in the interest of economy and good government."

Lane said the bill pushed back the date for eligibility for reimbursement on plants built after 1920 while the original date had been set as 1937.

State aid to municipalities is provided for up to 2 per cent of the original cost of the sewage facilities under the state clean streams law.

Bucky Walters, new pitching coach for the New York Giants, won 27 games for the Cincinnati Redlegs in 1954.

DEMONSTRATION BY 30 PUPILS CLOSES SCHOOL

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (P) — A students' demonstration Monday closed Redstone Twp. High School as pupils urged reinstatement of a supervising principal forced to retire last Friday after 21 years service.

Pupils gathered outside the school in Republic, 12 miles west of Uniontown, long before the scheduled start of classes.

Some of them carried signs declaring "We Want Hess" and "Bring Back Hess."

Lowered Age Limit
These apparently were in support of Clarence E. Hess, whose retirement was forced by the township school board last Friday night after the board lowered the compulsory retirement age from 65 to 62. Hess is 63.

The board, after ousting Hess, named Alfred DeFigio as supervising principal.

Many students were milling around outside the school when the first class bell rang this morning. DeFigio had walked into the school through the demonstrators, followed by a chorus of boos and cat-calls.

Apparently none of the school's 800 pupils entered the building for classes. DeFigio, who said "about 30" students participated in the demonstration, announced that classes had been called off and pupils told to return to their homes before they alighted from school buses.

A reporter for the Uniontown Standard estimated that some 600 students were in the crowd milling

CAL Plans For Jet Airliners In 1959

NEW YORK (P)—Continental Air Lines announced Monday it has ordered four Boeing jet strataliners to use on flights between Chicago, Denver and Los Angeles.

Continental President Robert F. Six said the jet installation, including spare parts, ground equipment and preoperating expense, will cost $21,300,000. The jet planes are expected to be delivered by May 1959 and be in operation by Aug. 1 of that year.

outside the school at the time classes were scheduled to start. A short time later a heavy snow began falling and some of the demonstrators' signs were used to start fires around which groups of students huddled for warmth.

There was no indication from the pupils of what further action might be taken or when they would be willing to return to class. Hess did not appear at the school Monday morning and could not be reached for comment.

DeFigio said he had asked the students participating in the demonstration to form a committee and meet with him, but that he had not heard from the committee. He added the school was dismissed "because we want to make an issue of this and get it settled."

LONDON (P)—Moscow radio reported Monday that the reduction of Soviet armed forces by 640,000 men—promised in August—has now been completed. The broadcast confirmed Western speculation that a chief purpose of the troop cut was to aid the Kremlin's big drive to increase Soviet agricultural output. The ex-soldiers have been "transferred to agriculture," the radio reported.

GOP Caucus Monday Decides Fate Of Leader's Tax Bill

HARRISBURG (P)—The Republican Senate majority headed into a decision Monday on Gov. Leader's manufacturers' excise tax with some support indicated for a proposal to shift the levy to the wholesale or retail levy.

Chairman Kessler (R-Lancaster) of the Senate Finance Committee said the entire question revolving around the 3½ per cent excise tax will be thrashed out by the GOP Senate caucus, a closed meeting where party policy is hammered out.

"It will be up to the Republican caucus to decide if the bill will be amended or defeated, or sent back to committee for changes," Kessler told a reporter. "I hope we reach a decision today."

The idea of converting the manufacturers' sales tax, strongly opposed by industry, into an excise tax on sales developed from a statement made by Sen. Dent, Democratic floor leader.

In presenting a group of Democratic amendments to the Senate last week, Dent said he was considering other changes to pinpoint the responsibility for collecting the tax to those who first receive manufactured goods, rather than making the manufacturer responsible for the tax.

Sen. Mahany, Republican floor leader, said that shifting the level of the tax from the manufacturer to the wholesaler or retailer might provide "a suitable compromise" to the year-long tax controversy. At the same time, Mahany said his only fear was that such a compromise "might generate into a straight mercantile tax," a levy on gross receipts which some experts describe as a hidden sales tax.

Kessler also said the proposal to shift the tax to the wholesale or retail levy would be "moving a step farther and getting nearer to a consumer's levy."

"Putting the tax on the wholesaler is considerably better than placing it on the manufacturer," Kessler said over the weekend.

The proposed shift, however, drew opposition from Dwight G. Perkins, president of the Philadelphia Merchants Assn.

"The excise tax started out as a manufacturers' tax and now they're trying to make a tax wholly on the distributive trade," Perkins said.

"Unfair And Unjust"
"It would be an unfair and unjust tax on the consuming public and just as objectionable as the manufacturers' excise tax."

U. S. Sen. James H. Duff gave this comment on the governor's manufacturers excise tax bill: "Any bill that has tacked onto it some 100 odd amendments, as the manufacturers excise tax now has, seems sadly in need of reappraisal. If it is that bad a bill, it would seem a new measure is needed."

In another weekend development, Miles Horst, Republican state chairman, said that sale of 110 million dollars in tax anticipation notes, as proposed by Senate Republicans, is necessary without regard to how soon the tax controversy is settled.

"The governor's opposition to this proposal proves what we have suspected right along, namely, that he wanted to use the schools' desperate need for funds as a club to get through the legislature whatever tax program he proposed," said Horst in a statement. The Horst attack came on the heels of the governor's news conference statement that although he had not taken a position on such a loan it was "a little ridiculous" for anyone to use it as an excuse for postponing action in taxes.

Horst is calling for support of the GOP tax anticipation note plan, said it will require a month before the notes can be sold. "Therefore, it is all the more important, that regardless the governor's views, that this legislation be approved most promptly," he added.

Santa and the Dumdidddy

By Lucrece Hudgins Beale

AP Newsfeatures

By Lucrece Hudgins Beale
SYNOPSIS: The Dumdidddy's false trail of arrows leads Beanie away from the robber's trap and safely out of town. Beanie stops at a kind old lady's house and asks for food. The lady is delighted, but when Beanie is not looking the Dumdidddy sees that the old lady's sweet face is really a mask.

CHAPTER EIGHT WITCH OF THE BLACK POTS

The little Dumdidddy blinked. Then he peered again at the sweet, kind-faced old lady.

Sure enough, he again saw the old lady reach up and tug at her face as if it were a hat she was setting straight on her head.

"Oh, me, oh, my," moaned the so hoarse it made the Dumdidddy shudder. He crept from under the sofa and into the kitchen. No one was there. He ran into the dining room. No one was there.

The old woman's screeching seemed to fill every room and he could not tell where she was. Finally he ran into the dressing room and there he beheld a sight more hideous even than the sound of the singing.

The old woman was sitting at her dressing table. She had taken off her mask. Her face in the mirror was the face of a witch: toothless, evil-eyed, sunken-cheeked.

"Ha, ha!" chorled the witch to herself in the mirror. "He, he!" She leaned forward and opened a little black box on her dresser. She took out of it a little black pill

"She must collect old black pots," thought Beanie.

Dumdidddy. "If only Beanie would and slipped the pill into her pocket. turn around!"

Just at that moment Beanie did turn around and now the Dumdidddy in his back pocket found himself staring out the window while Beanie faced the old woman.

"How nice it is to have a visitor," said the old woman. "I love little boys, especially at Christmas time." Her eyes twinkled and her mouth smiled sweetly. "Now what would you like more than anything in the world to eat?"

"Well," said Beanie, "I like raisin pudding."

"Fine," said the old lady. "If you will go in the yard and chop some kindling wood for the fire I will cook you some delicious raisin pudding."

Beanie started for the door but he was clumsy and on the way he tripped over one of the three black pots in the middle of the room. The Dumdidddy flew out of his pocket and rolled under the sofa.

"Why does she have these black pots in the middle of the room?" wondered Beanie.

He picked himself up and went into the back yard. There was another black pot by the wood pile. And still another down by the back fence. "She must collect old black pots," thought Beanie as he set to work with the ax.

Meantime, the Dumdidddy lay where he had rolled under the sofa. Suddenly he heard a hideous screeching.

The old lady was singing. But her voice was so creaky and into the kitchen with a load of wood. The witch snatched up her mask and slipped it over her face. She went into the kitchen. The Dumdidddy crept after her.

"Lay the wood on the fire, boy, and I will mix your raisin pudding."

The witch brought out a bowl and beat into it eggs and sugar and butter and bread crumbs. She poured the mixture into four colored baking dishes. Then she carefully sprinkled raisins into each dish and the puddings were ready to be cooked.

She put the red dish in the oven. She put the yellow dish in the oven. Then the green dish. She was about to put in the purple dish when she exclaimed: "Dear me! A raisin fell in my pocket!"

And, quicker than the eye could follow, she pulled the little black pill from her pocket and dropped it into the purple dish.

"Now that one has more raisins than the others," said Beanie.

"Yes," nodded the witch. "So it shall be for you!" And she popped the purple dish into the oven.

General Merrill Dies Sunday Night

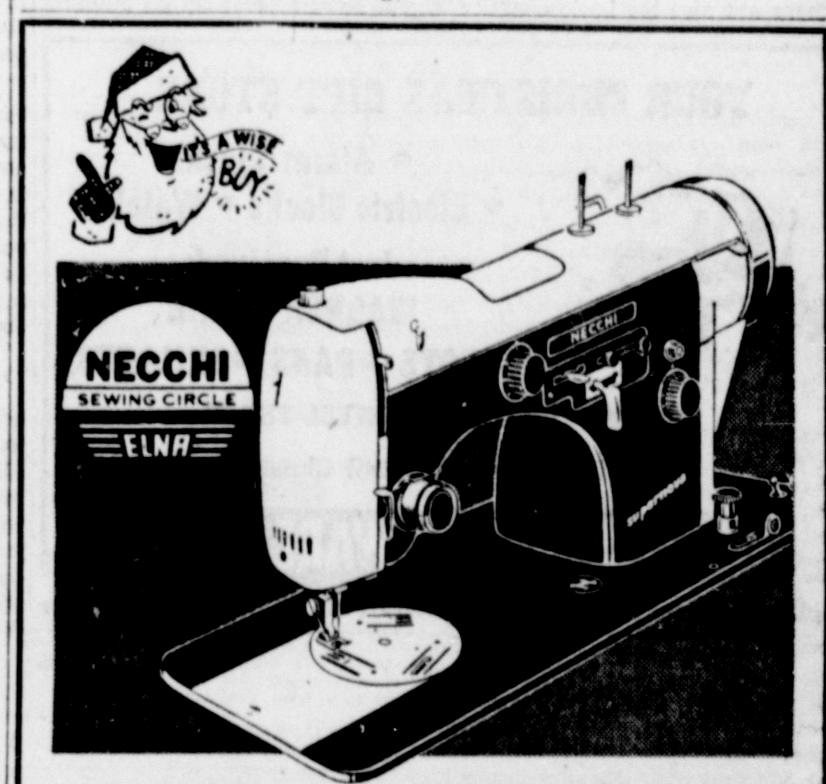

FERNANDINA BEACH, Fla. (P) — Maj. Gen. Frank D. Merrill, 53, New Hampshire public works and highways commissioner since 1949 and famed World War II jungle fighter, died Sunday night of a heart attack.

Merrill, leader of "Merrill's Marauders" who plagued the Japanese behind the lines in the Pacific fighting, was stricken at a motel here, about 30 miles north-east of Jacksonville.

Merrill and his party registered at the motel late Sunday. He appeared in good spirits. He was stricken with the heart attack and died before a doctor arrived.

Merrill and State Highway Engineer Richard Burnell, and their wives, were returning to New Hampshire from a meeting of the American Assn. of State Highway Officials in New Orleans.

Robert Fulton's steamboat, "Clermont," began regular service in 1807.

YANK COTTON FARMERS FACE MANY ISSUES

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton farmers voting today on marketing quotas for next year's crop are entangled in world problems as well as the domestic ones.
The cotton surplus problem has a part in such things as the United States and Russia jockeying for the friendship of Egypt. It is involved in the American textile mills' quarrel with the Japanese textile industry. It will be watched by the millhands in Manchester, England.
In this country there are sectional disputes as well. The interests of the Southeastern cotton grower with a small farm aren't the same as those of the big-acreage farmer in the irrigated Southwest. There are also the basic disputes between the textile mill operators who think the price of cotton is held artificially high and the cotton farmer who fears any change that might pull the rug out from under his income.

Huge Cotton Supply
The United States now has a cotton supply on hand of more than 25 million bales. Domestic mills use about nine million bales a year. Of the remaining 16 million bales, some 1 1/4 million may move overseas through various foreign aid programs, and some 2 1/4 to 3 million more may be exported through regular trade channels.
That will leave the United States holding some 13 to 14 million bales of unsold cotton in addition to whatever the cotton farmers grow in the coming season, as set by today's voting on limitation of acreage to be planted this spring.
More could move into world trade except for the international and domestic disputes involved.
The huge cotton surplus plays a big role in the United States' hesitancy to fight it out with Soviet Russia for Egypt's favor. Egypt has its heart set on building

U. S. To Construct Atomic Hospital

UPTON, N. Y. (AP)—A new six-million-dollar atomic hospital and medical research center with its own atomic reactor (oven) will be built here by the government in the next two years.
The medical reactor, one of the first two in the United States, will produce many kinds of radioactive atoms to be used against cancer and other diseases. It will also provide X-rays and neutrons—atomic particles released by the splitting of atoms—for direct use on human patients, the Atomic Energy Commission announced.
The second atomic medical reactor is being planned by the University of California at Los Angeles.
Announcement of the new center on Long Island was made Sunday by the Atomic Energy Commission. Facilities will include the research hospital, with rooms arranged in an unusual circular style, and laboratories for atomic-medical research in physics, chemistry, physiology, microbiology, pathology and biochemistry.

the high Aswan Dam, which would irrigate many acres of land that could produce long-staple cotton—in competition in particular with the fast-growing Pima cotton output of our own Southwest, as well as with every American cotton farmer over whose head a world cotton surplus hangs.
Fear Red Offer
The Russians have offered to help build Egypt's dam. Washington doubts if the Soviets could fulfill their promise, but it fears the propaganda effect on the Arab world of the offer itself. Yet to jump in and furnish the money ourselves would be working against the interests of our own cotton

U. N. SECURITY SHOWDOWN VOTE

By TOM HOGGE
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — The Security Council headed toward a showdown vote today on the disputed proposal to admit 18 nations in a group to the U. N. There seemed little hope the plan could escape a big power veto.
With behind-the-scenes efforts to secure East-West agreement on the package proposal apparently exhausted, the 11-nation council was expected to begin balloting before nightfall.
The U. N. Political Committee, meanwhile, brought the Assembly closer to its adjournment goal. It gave a thumping 53-5 endorsement last night to a proposal to give President Eisenhower's "open sky" inspection plan priority in new disarmament negotiations.
Only the Soviet bloc opposed the resolution sponsored by the United States, Britain, France and Canada. But the continuing Soviet opposition emphasized that the long East-West deadlock on disarmament apparently is no nearer a break.
The resolution was expected to get similar endorsement in the Assembly.
The Russians opposed it on farmers.

Uncle Sam could dump part of his surplus cotton on the world market at lower-than-support prices. But that would bring howls not only from other cotton-producing countries, but also from our own cotton textile mills who would see their competitors in England and Japan benefitting by getting a lower priced cotton at the expense of American mills buying at a higher price.

grounds it failed to emphasize arms reduction and prohibition of nuclear weapons.
The resolution calls on the big-power Disarmament subcommittee to continue efforts to agree on a comprehensive disarmament plan in line with the instructions of last year's General Assembly.
It urges the subcommittee to give priority to the Eisenhower plan and Soviet Premier Bulganin's proposal for stationing ground inspection teams at strategic centers.
Glum delegates saw little chance of similar success for the membership package deal although it already has the approval of 52 Assembly delegations.
The Russians—suspicious the West might vote down some of the five Communist entries when they come before the Assembly for final action—have insisted under threat of using the veto that both the council and Assembly vote on each applicant before the council takes up the next on the list.
The United States and other Western powers have contended the council should vote on the 18 first, then let the Assembly act.
In view of Nationalist China's threats to veto Outer Mongolia, the Russians already had warned that they would turn thumbs down on all 13 non-Communist candidates if any of their five entries fail to make the grade.

Republicans Give On New Excise Tax; 3 GOP Votes Required To Pass Measure

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. Kessler (R-Lancaster) said today Republican opposition is collapsing to Gov. Leader's proposed 3 1/2 per cent manufacturers' excise tax.
"From what I can see some of the boys are caving in on this," he told a newsmen.
The Senate Finance Committee chairman made the statement in advance of a crucial GOP caucus amid predictions from both sides that the 320 million dollar revenue-raising measure would pass, possibly this week.
The 23-member Democratic bloc needs three Senate GOP votes to approve the House-passed measure which was revised by Republicans last night to fix a May 31, 1957, expiration date into the plan.
Matches Fiscal Period
The bill in its present form would make the tax become effective Jan. 1. The 1957 termination date coincides with the end of the commonwealth's current two-year fiscal period.
Sen. Van Sant (R-Lehigh) told a reporter last night he would vote against the levy but added:
"From all indications here tonight I would say the Republicans are ready to provide limited support for the tax provided Democrats, as they pledged, take full responsibility for it."
Sen. Haluska (D-Cambria) immediately renewed the pledge and said he expected the GOP caucus to suggest that Sens. Mahany, GOP floor leader; Pechan, assistant GOP floor leader, and Berger, GOP caucus chairman, vote for the tax.

"I'm fully confident that the Senate will pass this tax," Haluska told a newsmen.
He said the bill will likely be debated during the day and put up for a final vote tomorrow.
Neither Mahany nor Sen. Dent, Senate Democratic floor leader, would discuss the compromise under a mutual agreement to withhold all public statements until after today's GOP caucus.
Remains Reticent
Meanwhile, Kessler declined to say if Republicans would offer any more amendments to the bill or whether it would be returned to his committee for changes.
Previously, he said any decision to provide Republican votes for the bill would mean recommending the measure for tailoring to a Republican pattern.
In another development, Senate Republicans voted in a solid bloc to defeat, 28-21, the governor's proposals to transfer professional licensing boards to the Department of State.
The agencies range from the State Board of Funeral Directors, now in the Health Department, to 15 in the Public Instruction Department.
The GOP, rolling over Democratic protests, contended that Leader failed to show where these government reorganization plans would save money.
In the House, approval was given to an 8 million dollar grant for state rentals for authority-financed school construction. The House also received for consideration a 15 million dollar stopgap appropriation for relief.
Stands By Estimate
Meanwhile, Dent stood by his original 320 million dollar estimate despite a new amendment which would exempt items consumed in manufacture which don't constitute capital items subject to depreciation.
Another new amendment accepted by the Senate would prohibit any merchant from advertising that he is absorbing the tax. Dent called this "trick advertising."
Dent reportedly sent a message to the Republican caucus yesterday that even should the excise levy pass, it may be necessary to ask for a 1 per cent personal net income tax subject to the same deductions authorized by federal law.
Take Middle Of The Road Stand
Haluska said he was told later that Republicans neither accepted nor rejected the idea. The Senate GOP was told that the excise levy wouldn't bring in enough to balance the budget which last April ran more than $1,800,000,000.
Democrats claim 465 million dollars in new revenue is needed to balance the budget. The Republicans are sticking to figures in a 325 to 375 million dollar range.

YANK TURNCOAT LEAVES CHINA; BELIEVES REDS

By DAVID J. ROADS

HONG KONG (AP)—Richard Roger Tenneson, 22, turncoat GI former war prisoner, arrived here today from Red China. He said he was neither for nor against communism but that he believed the Red charges that the United States used germ warfare in Korea.

Tenneson, who comes from Alden, Minn., was among 21 Americans who refused repatriation after the Korean War. In September he said he wanted to go home, and the Communists gave him permission to leave.

American consular officials who met him at the border drove him to Kowloon, this British crown colony's mainland city opposite Hong Kong Island. He held a news conference in a hotel room provided by the Red Cross, the same room occupied by three other turncoats who came home last summer.

Is Highly Nervous
Tenneson was quite nervous as he spoke, talking rapidly in a high-pitched voice and gesturing constantly. He said he had been permitted to read both American and Chinese newspapers and concluded conditions in the United States were "favorable" for his return.

"I know definitely about communism today, more than in 1951," he said. "I am not fighting for communism, nor am I against it."

Expects Hostility
He said he believed the Chinese charges that the Americans had waged germ warfare in Korea because of the "evidence" the Communists had assembled. Had there been no germ warfare, he declared, then "things that have been collected could not have been collected. There are all kinds of evidence apart from statements—dif-erent kinds of bombs and so forth."

He added that he expected "some hostility when I arrive home because of my views on American germ warfare."

The United States has repeatedly denied the germ warfare accusations and in turn has charged that the Chinese made fake photographs.

Tenneson termed his stay in China "he worked in a paper factory—something like attending school and now my decision to return to the United States is something like a postgraduate course."

He said that he originally had planned not to stay in China "for long," and now was going home because of possible repercussions. He refused to elaborate on these reasons, but said when he asked the Reds for permission to leave, "none of them tried to keep me back; they wanted to get rid of me."

Tenneson also would not go into this except to say he did not get along with the Chinese people as a whole. "There was nothing personal in our relationship," he added.
